

I dont see why you shouldnt be able to have the same things that sattelite TV has . they have local channels and local content I think things are getting a little out of hand when you have to argue about every new thing that comes along and is liked